

Job Description

Educational Psychologist

Summary of Role

The Dyslexia Association of Ireland is looking to recruit Educational Psychologists to join our current team. These posts are offered on both a full and part-time basis.

The successful candidates will be responsible for carrying out educational psychology assessments of children, young people and adults; as well as delivering training on the subject of dyslexia and related issues. The roles are based in our national office in Dublin.

The successful candidates will be expected to:

- Conduct educational psychology assessments of children, young people and adults.
- Produce assessment reports in line with the house style of the Association.
- Plan and deliver training courses for teachers, students, parents and other professionals.
- Provide support to the Information Team in the national office
- Represent the Association in a positive and professional way, which promotes the visions, aims and objectives of the Association.
- Follow established administration and record keeping practices.
- Ensure confidentiality and professional integrity are upheld at all times.
- Be flexible, adaptable and available to take on other tasks requested by the Association.
- Report to Donald Ewing, Head of Psychological and Educational Services.

Terms

- Salary starting at €48,000
- A one year contract, with potential to extend.
- A three-month probationary period will apply.
- 35-hour week, with part-time and flexible working opportunities.
- Based in Dublin city-centre office, with some requirements to travel nationwide.
- Saturday and evening work, with time off in lieu for any overtime.
- This position is subject to Garda Vetting.

Person Specification

Candidates should have:

- A Masters or Doctorate qualification in Educational Psychology
- Experience delivering an educational psychology service (including training placements).
- Experience of the Irish educational system.
- High level of skill and understanding of dyslexia and related topics.
- Experience of delivering high quality training experiences.
- Excellent presentation skills.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills.
- Excellent organisational and IT skills.
- High levels of professionalism, innovation, energy, integrity and flexibility.

Application Process

Candidates wishing to apply for this post should email their CV to:

Donald Ewing

Head of Psychological and Educational Services

Dyslexia Association of Ireland

donaldewing@dyslexia.ie

01 877 6001 or +353 1 877 6001